RULES

Requirements and program

The Atterbury National Piano Competition is for young people under the age of 20 years and includes the following categories: 12 years and under, 15 years and under, 19 years and under. The age category to be entered is determined by the age of the learner at the start of the competition, i.e 19 October 2020.

Only South African citizens and permanent residents may participate. The competition takes place over four rounds. All participants compete in the first two rounds, after which eighteen semi-finalists will be announced. All repeat indications may be ignored, except for a Da Capo. No piano concertos are allowed. Memorising of the entire program is required for the competition, including the DVD made for the audition.

The rounds are compiled as follows

1st round

One Baroque and one Romantic work.

2nd round

One Classical and one Modern / 20th Century / Impressionistic work.

3rd round

Two contrasting works: Any work from a previous round and a new work that has not yet been presented.

4th round

A program of two works selected from previous rounds.
